Lavender honey is a premium honey. This honey is produced in Alentejo where the bees collect this light colored and delicate nectar from wild lavender flowers. Many honey connoisseurs consider lavender honey to be the best honey in the world. This gourmet honey is widely popular in culinary. In addition lavender honey can be used medicinally as it is rich in numerous health-boosting compounds from tyrosine to flavonoids.

GOTA lavender honey has fine, well-balanced and rounded flavour and the delicate floral scent with an evident Lavender component. Lavender honey is characterized by a very persistent medium sweet taste that grows with the finish and contains weak acidity without bitterness, lingers in the mouth.
